

On August 21, 2017, Public health professional, injury researcher, safety advocate, Director, Johns Hopkins International Injury research Unit & Director, Health Systems Program, Dr. Adnan Hyder traveled to National Institute for Emergency Medicine, Ministry of Public Health, Bangkok, Thailand to attend the meeting for preparing World Safety Conference 2018. That was focused on discussion of the conference program, and other inputs for World Safety Conference 2018.

Message to invite all people to be attend in this conference from Dr. Adnan Hyder

“This world conference is about the injury prevention and the safety promotion in another words this conference is trying to identified how we can safe life that a lot of results of injuries and trauma what sometimes will prefer for accidents. We believed that injuries are preventable and they are predictable and we know how to stop this death and this injury from happening. So, the global communities every 2 years get together in the form of the word conference and this next conference will be here in Bangkok (5th -7th November 2018). We are delighted an honor that Thailand has agreed to be host for this important event.”

“This conference is the global conference, so that people will come from all over the world from Latin America, Asia, Middle East and Africa. It so excited that all over colleges that come to attend meeting and also share their experiences, knowledge and their skills in preventing and controlling all types of injuries, for example road traffic injury, burn, fall, occupation injury, promoting safety, the environment, work place and violence, looking at risk factors like alcohol, others drug as well. We hope that people will come from the difference sectors, the health sectors, the law sectors, education sectors, communications, media, academics, non-government organizations and also public sectors. We are really hopeful that many people from around the word from a diversity and discipline and perfection will come attend this meeting.”

“This world conference, the leaders in the field from around the world will work very closely with Thai colleges. Thailand is the national organizing committee and host of the conferences. They are supported by the Organizing Committee with the Chair by Dr. Etienne Krug from the World Health Origination and I am the secretariat of The IOC (International Organizing Committee). Together we will work in supporting this conference and we hope over this next year to stimulate people to come and attend the meeting but we also have call for abstracts and we are requesting scientists, researchers, practitioners, policies, and individual to submit interesting work that they done, so that it can be selected for all of presentation or the poster presentation. We are also hopeful that we want to attract many young people to attend. We believed that we would like to train the next generation of leaders in the fields of injury prevention. We hope that not only young people from Thailand, but also from all over the world will come to learn and network with senior people and more experienced colleges and therefor participate in the future.”